Two Kinds of Economy in the Post-War Maxwell

THE Post-War Maxwell inherited from its 1 300,000 predecessors two traits that captivate the person who likes continuous, minterrupted, comfortable and low cost

One is its freedom from repairs. It runs on and on. Give it gas, oil, grease and water and it will deliver an amazing amount of mileage.

The second is the low price you pay per mile. Its thrifty engine makes gas go a long way." Its 2000 pounds of weight assures long tire wear.

Such kinds of economy came from years of study and the experience which 300,000 previous Maxwells have taught.

The notable improvements and refinements to be found in this car have caught the attention of many who figured that high efficiency meant high price.

The public has served notice that it does appreciate value.

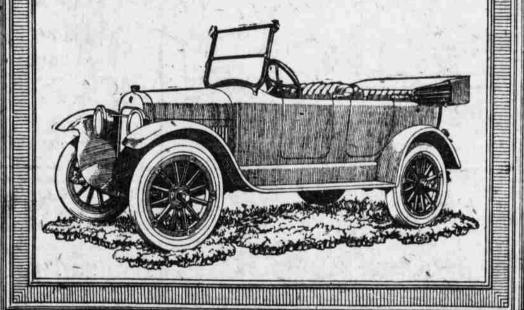

That is why 40,000 persons will have to go without a Post-War Maxwell this year though 100,000 are being built.

Loew's Lyceum.

Loew's Lyceum.

John E. Henshaw, the musical comedy star who is appearing in vaudeville at Loew's Lyceum during the first half of the week, has held his own in some of the biggest productions Broadway has known in 30 years. He will be remembered for his brilliant work in "The Strollers," "The Shogun" and "The Chinese Honeymoon."

For his vaudeville vehicle, Mr. Henshaw has provided himself with an ingenious little skit called "Carrying On," described by Montgomery Phiste, the noted critic of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune, as "30 minutes of brilliant nonsense." He is supported by Grace Avery in this offering at Loew's, which is second only to the headliner, Minnle Burke and her jazz band.

"Lombardi, Lid.," featuring Bert Lyfell, is a screen production that contains 610 laughs by actual count, and 2,500 pounds of feminine beauty reflected on canvas.

Moving Pictures

Princess.

Princess.

"The Flame of the Yukon," the first picture in which Miss Dalton starred and which raised her to the front ranks of picture stars, will be shown for the last time today at the Princess theater. "The Flame" in this picture is a woman who plays with men's hearts amidst the gold mining camps of the frozen north, and it gives Miss Dalton a role admirably suited to her type. The attraction for Wednesday and Thursday will be Maurice Tourneur's production, "The Broken Butterfly."

Strand.

When Marguerite Clark, the chic little Paramount-Arieraft star, was told that "Luck in Pawn," her new picture now being shown at the Strand theater, this week, presents her as a giri-artist attired in the conventional smock and in action with paiette and brushes, she was delighted, for painting is one of her pet hobbies and she has done some extremely meritorious work in water colors and oil. She enthusiastically questioned her director further about her artistic career in the film.

"You are a rank failure, he said unfeelingly, "and end up by marrying a millionaire."

Miss Clark, in the picture, soesn't take her lack of success as an artist seriously, and "Luck in Pawn" is said to be one of the brightest comedy vehicles in which she has yet appeared. The little artist goes to a summer hotel to consult a noted painter about her work, and there meets a young millionaire, who, after a series of amusing complications, falls in love with her. "Uncle Tom Without the Cabin" also is shown.

Majestic.

Majestic.

Charles Ray's large list of local admirers will be delighted to hear that he is now playing at the Majestic theater, today and Wednesday. In his new Thomas H. Ince production, "Crooked Straight."

The story is somewhat along the lines of "The Busher," as it deplets Mr. Ray as a country boy who goes to the big city and fails into evil ways. He is a crook's assistant, but comes back to the little town when his mother dies to take cars of his numerous little brothers and sisters.

There he wins the love of a girl and is later given the chance to prove that his regeneration is complete in a most dramatic way.
